

Is there a TIGER in your yard?

The Asian Tiger Mosquito (Aedes albopictus) has been in Rockland County since 2011.

This mosquito:

- Bites all day long, not just at dusk and dawn
- Lays its eggs in common items that hold water around your home
- Doesn't fly far, so if you see them, they are probably living close by

Want To Hunt The Tiger?

The Asian Tiger Mosquito grows up in standing water around your house and can potentially spread the Zika virus!

This is what mosquito larvae look like.

Some common containers that hold water and could breed mosquitoes are:

- Bird Baths
- Toys
- Flower Pots and Bases
- Pet's Water Dishes
- Even small items like cups and bottle caps!

Hunt the Tiger by checking for water in outside containers at least once a week. Get rid of the items or empty the water out and scrub the container so that the Tiger Mosquito won't live there.

Did you know?

According to Rutgers University
 1 birdbath can produce over 400,000
 mosquitoes in a single summer!
